

It's National Library Week!

This year's theme is "Find Your Joy", a celebration of all the imagination, creativity, and joy that libraries bring to our lives each and every day. Visiting our library offers you the opportunity to explore new worlds, ideas, and ways of belonging, from borrowing books to joining clubs or participating in social activities.

Your library joy is up to you to discover — but our Reference Assistants have the unique perspective of witnessing moments of joy and excitement on a daily basis. Sometimes it's as simple as the moment a child discovers something new, or when a recommendation really resonates with a patron. Other times, it's moments where community members feel a sense of belonging, understanding, comfort, and connection.

Youth Journalism Intern

We are currently recruiting local high school students for a paid opportunity to contribute to the new community-led newspaper, The Plymouth Express.

Students selected for this opportunity will be paid to attend one public meeting per month in either the City of Plymouth or Plymouth Township and submit an article to inform the community on the workings of local government. This is a grant-funded project, supported by the Kiwanis Club of Colonial Plymouth.

Selected students will receive training on public meeting protocol and mentorship from local writers. The contract term will be from June 2026 through June 2027. Applicants must be 16+ before June 1, 2026, and a current high school student.

Applications are due Friday, May 8th at 4pm.
