

A TRIP TO THE ZOO

It was a _____, _____ day. Willa and Jackson thought adjective weather adjective it would be a great day to go to the zoo. They _____ into the verb _____ and asked their mom if she would take them. "What room in house a _____ idea!" she exclaimed. "Let's go!" adjective

They approached the ticket window where they were greeted by a _____ zoo employee. "_____ tickets, please!" Jackson adjective number said. The three enthusiastic visitors entered the main gate and headed straight toward the _____ house. After spending 20 minutes animal _____ at the baby monkey jumping up and down in a verb ending in -ing
 _____, they decided to go visit the _____ elephants. noun adjective
 Seeing them eat the juicy _____ made Jackson and Willa very type of fruit hungry! Mom took them to the snack bar where they ordered _____, _____, and _____. "Let's get going!" type of food type of food type of drink said Willa. We still have to see the _____, _____, and animal, plural animal, plural
 _____.
animal, plural

As they left the zoo with _____ in hand, they thanked their noun _____ for a _____ day at the zoo. family member adjective

