Extension Activities:

1. Since you can't give your teachers an end-of-year gift, try writing an end-of-year thank you note. Ask your school for an email or home address to send your letter.
2. Paint a picture with something more interesting than a paintbrush. Bailey used his tail-- what do you want to try using? A weed? A Q-tip? A stick? Bubble wrap? Get creative!
3. Turn up some music and sing and dance together, just like Bailey and his classmates! If you need some new music, check out Hoopla--it has music too!
4. Bailey shared a list of his favorite things with his friends. Write a list and/or talk about your own favorite things.
5. Discuss routines. Is Bailey's normal school day like yours? How is your normal school day now different from your normal school day a few months ago? What are some things you like about now? What are some things you miss about before? Do you like doing the same things every day, or do you like to do different things?
